

2023 Interprovincial Pro Football Conference

League information. The IPFC originally consisted of six teams: Halifax, London, Quebec, Saskatoon, Vancouver, and Ottawa. In 2014, Ottawa moved to Windsor and Alberta was added to the league. At this time, the league's seven teams were not broken down into divisions. In 2015, the league introduced its eighth team, Niagara. Niagara was designated as a regional team playing half of their home games in Buffalo, NY and the others in St. Catharines, Ontario. With eight teams, the league broke down into two divisions, Eastern and Western. Despite hesitancy, in 2023, the league expanded to ten teams with the addition of Pacific and Manitoba. Both Pacific and Manitoba were placed in the Western Division and Windsor moved to the East.

2023 Season

Retirements. After Niagara's defeat of Vancouver in the 2022 Cartier Bowl, off-season activity exploded with the announcement of 33 retirements. This included three future Hall-of-Famers: RB Ntwannu Nyamadi, FB Jhari Darnell, and DT Richard Bailey. Nyamadi's career spanned 10 seasons starting with Halifax, moving to Saskatoon for two years, and then returning home to Halifax for his final season. Nyamadi finished his career in the top 5 for career rushing yards and rushing touchdowns. Darnell, who is considered the best blocking fullback to ever play in the IPFC, spent 12 seasons between Saskatoon and Halifax. Bailey, a dominating run-stopper, spent 14 seasons in the IPFC including a couple seasons in Quebec, one season in Niagara, and the rest of his career in Windsor.

Expansion Draft. The 2023 Expansion Draft consisted of two snaking rounds with Pacific earning the first pick. In each round, Manitoba and Pacific had to select one player from each established team. However, before the first round, established teams selected eleven players to protect; in the second, they protected six additional players.

First round. With their first selection, Pacific selected aging, injury prone, but future HoF QB J'Marucs Urban from London. Manitoba immediately focused on their defence selecting DB Lamar Beck (Niagara) and OLB Keegan Whitaker (Vancouver). Manitoba finished the first round selecting: SB Sammy Mathis (Alberta), T Jude Mueller (Halifax), DT Brad Knudsen (London), G Jerry Simpson (Quebec), G Joshua Wallace (Saskatoon), and K/P Rickey Cortez (Windsor). With their remaining first round selections, Pacific selected: G Matthew Fraser (Alberta), DT Vincent Draper (Halifax), DB Duane Lambert (Niagara), T Chadwick Drummond (Quebec), WR Nicholas Frazier (Saskatoon), FB Nick Harmon (Vancouver), and T Charlie Peeters (Windsor).

Second round. Pacific selected: RB Henry White (Alberta), WR Mel Matthews (Halifax), C Wyatt Thomas (London) OLB Carl Kowalski (Niagara), G Cannon Malone (Quebec), DB James Floyd (Saskatoon), SB Chris Gibbs (Vancouver), and DE Bryan Valentine (Windsor). Manitoba selected: QB Robert Simpson (Alberta), DE Jim Zeller (Halifax), CB Dallas Durham (London), WR Heath Parrish (Niagara), DB Dontel Curtis (Quebec), RB Jason Phillips (Saskatoon), WR Greg Anderson (Vancouver), and C Brandon Van Zell (Windsor).

ACCU Rookie Draft. With the exception of quarterbacks, the 2023 Rookie Draft had the deepest pool of up-and-coming players the IPFC has ever seen. However, the following six ACCU schools really showcased their program's strength and saw multiple of their recent graduates drafted in the first and second rounds: St. Catherine's Academy, Francis Drake University, St. Albert College, William J. Gage University, and University of Nova Scotia at Halifax.

First round. With the first overall pick, Saskatoon selected FB Carlton Buck (St. Albert College). Buck's ground and pound running style has been compared to Ntwannu Nyamadi except Buck has better ball control. With the second pick, London replaced J'Marcus Urban by selecting QB Jordan Keen (Francis Drake University). Although Keen has room for improvement, he will make an immediate impact for London and has huge potential. To improve protection for Nate Willington, Alberta selected T Robert Bagshaw (Francis Drake University). Staying in line with London and Alberta, Halifax selected another graduate from Francis Drake University – DE Leslie Gesner. Gesner was the top pass rusher in the ACCU and will be a force for Halifax. To fill the void left by future HoF Jerry Simpson, Quebec selected Joseph Barwell (St. Catherine's Academy). With the sixth pick, Windsor selected DT Nicholas Baker (William J. Gage University). In the seventh round, to further improve their defence, Vancouver selected S Albert Mainse (St. Albert College). Filling the many vacancies left in their championship defence, Niagara selected DE Gerard Belanger (St. Catherine's Academy). With their second to last pick, to provide J'Marcus Urban with young talent, Pacific selected T Billy Bob White (St. Catherine's Academy). In the final selection of the first round, Manitoba selected FB Adrian Pringle (St. Catherine's Academy) who will likely be the steal of the draft.

Second round. Saskatoon WR Jerry Brockhouse (Francis Drake University), London T Lyle Reeves (St. Albert College), Alberta DE Rondell Nickerson (St. Albert College), Halifax DT Robert Hunter (Nova Scotia University-Halifax), Quebec T BJ Gardner (Thunder Bay University), Windsor OLB Jaylen Ewart (St. Albert College), Vancouver DE Zeke Markle (St. Albert College), Niagara S Matthew Gratton (Francis Drake University), Manitoba ILB Justin Couture (Rideau College), Pacific OLB Joshua Brown (William J. Gage University).

Third round. Saskatoon RB Kenyon McKean (Thunder Bay University), London WR Alvin Edwards (Peel University), Alberta G Louie Lavoie (Université des Ursulines), Halifax T Ian Scott (Nova Scotia University-Halifax), Quebec DB Louis Hébert (Université des Ursulines), Windsor DT William Ouellet (Université Sainte-Marie), Vancouver DB Corey Sutherland (Rideau College), Niagara DE Raynell Belanger (Collège Laviolette), Pacific ILB Greg Menton (New Westminster University), Manitoba QB Kyle Lambert (William J. Gage University).

Fourth round. Saskatoon T Frederick Johnston (St. Albert College), London ILB Tallan Bouchard (Université des Ursulines), Alberta DB Dwayne Barber (Francis Drake University), Halifax ILB Nick Simard (Université des Ursulines), Quebec RB Matthieu Girard (Collège Laviolette), Windsor CB Samuel Crawford (Nova Scotia University-Halifax), Vancouver FB Michael Craig (St. John's University), Niagara QB Jeremy Lauzon (Nova Scotia University-Halifax), Manitoba OLB Keith Johnston (Nova Scotia University-Halifax), Pacific CB Denny Dickson (Bennett College).

2023 Interprovincial Pro Football Conference

Eastern Division

Halifax. With the return of QB Casen Herbert, WR Chase Patterson, WR Miguel Nichols, and RB Blake Thornton, Halifax's offence can castigate their opponents by air or ground. Halifax's defence has improved with the addition of three rookies: DE Leslie Gesner (Francis Drake University), DT Robert Hunter (Nova Scotia University-Halifax), and ILB Nick Simard (Université des Ursulines). Halifax has one of the best pass defences in the IPFC, but will occasionally struggle against the run. Unfortunately, Halifax will be disappointed if they are forced to depend on P/K Spencer Hoover to win games. OFF/DEF: [NC]/[+1]. Projected: 6-4 - compete for the East.

London. The J'Marcus Urban era is over as the team chose not to protect him during the expansion draft. The aging quarterback became injury prone and London didn't see Urban taking them back to the Cartier Bowl. After a disappointing 2022 season, London used their first round draft pick on QB Jordan Keen (Francis Drake University). Keen is a pocket passer with an accurate arm and who makes good decisions. With a combination of Keen, RB Chase Mullen, and WR Colton Marsh, London has the best offense in the league. Led by veteran Jon Ikeda, London's defense will be barely adequate for a championship run. OFF/DEF: [-2]/[-1]. Projected: 6-4 – compete for the East.

Niagara. The 2022 Cartier Bowl Champions will be a sleeper team in 2023 and make another championship run. As QB Jeff Fountain debated retiring after 2022, Niagara selected QB Jeremy Lauzon (Nova Scotia University-Halifax) in the draft. Lauzon will ride the bench for 2023, but likely not in 2024. Niagara's offense will be efficient, not special. Much has changed on defense with seven new starters. Overall, their defence's strength will be shutting down runners. OFF/DEF: [NC]/[-1]. Projected: 6-4 – compete for East.

Quebec. Keeping with 2022's theme, Quebec's offence is below average but their defence is one of the best in the league. Quebec's defence looks the same as the previous year except with the addition of DE Howard Hopkins and rookie DB Louis Hébert (Université des Ursulines.) Hopkins replaces Darrell Campbell and Herbert replaces Dontel Curtis who was selected by Manitoba in the expansion draft. The focus point of Quebec's offence will again be pass plays between QB Jeremy Lefevre and WR Brian Bender. P/K Jordy Miano is still the best placekicker in the league. OFF/DEF: [-1]/[+1]. Projected: 6-4 – compete for the East.

Windsor. Windsor's 2022 season left many questioning what just happened. At home, the lowest ranked team in the league shocked the IPFC with a 5-0 record at home, averaging more than 27 points per game and allowing just under 9 points per game. However, on the road, they were 1-4, averaged 19 points per game while allowing 30 points per game. Last year's questions still remain but will likely be answered this season. For 2023, moving from the Western to Eastern Division, Windsor is again expected to have the worst record in the league. Both the offence and defence are below average, but not surprisingly better than expansion teams Manitoba and Pacific. OFF/DEF: [+1]/[-2]. Projected: 1-9 – ride the basement.

Western Division

Alberta. Ranked second in offence and first in defence, Alberta enters the 2023 season as the top ranked team. Despite QB Nate Willington being a high-caliber passer, Alberta will still favor keeping the ball on the ground with RB Kevin Blanchard and FB David Williams. However, Blanchard's versatility as a pass catcher should keep opponents from primarily focusing on Alberta's run game. Besides Blanchard, Willington's other favorite target will be WR Seth Nowak. Alberta's defence has improved since 2022 with the addition of rookie DE Rondell Nickerson (St. Albert College). Good things await Alberta in 2023. OFF/DEF: [+1]/[+1]. Projected: 7-3 – championship run.

Manitoba. Expansion teams are a tough place to land. For rookies QB Kyle Lambert (William J. Gage University) and FB Adrian Pringle (St. Catherine's Academy), they are projected to have great IPFC careers, but the 2023 season will teach them hard lessons about losing. On paper, with several post-prime all-stars, a bunch of veterans, some journeymen, and a handful of up-and-coming rookies, Manitoba's roster looks better than Windsor's, but the team lacks cohesion and is the worst overall team in the league. OFF/DEF: [NC]/[-2]. Projected: 2-8 – basement bound.

Pacific. Taking a risk, Pacific used their first round expansion pick and selected unprotected QB J'Marcus Urban from London. Urban, a shoe-in for the HoF, has struggled with injuries over the past several years and 2023 will likely be no different. However, Pacific coaching staff see Urban's worth as more than his abilities on the field, but his leadership ability in the locker room. Pacific surrounded Urban with a good cast: FB Nick Harmon, RB Henry White, SB Chris Gibbs, WR Nicholas Frazier, and WR Mel Matthews. Focusing their expansion picks on offence, Pacific's pass and run defence is ranked dead last. OFF/DEF: [NC]/[-2]. Projected: 2-8 – battle for the bottom.

Saskatoon. The tides are changing in Saskatoon. After several tough seasons, Saskatoon enters the 2023 season with the top passing and second ranked run offence. For 2023, QB Colson Herbert is been surrounded by talent. WR Mathias Small will be Herbert's primary target with rookie WR Jerry Brockhouse (Francis Drake University) also being a deep option. Joining Herbert in the backfield are rookies RB Kenyon McKean (Thunder Bay University) and FB Carlton Buck (St. Albert College), a duo Saskatoon fans are calling "Wrist Shot and Slap Shot." Not the best but not the worst, Saskatoon's defence will support victories. OLB Matt Jayne and DT Logan Wentworth have proven to be clutch in close games. OFF/DEF: [-2]/[NC]. Projected: 7-3 – playoff run.

Vancouver. With a 2022 Cartier Bowl loss, QB Shotgun Johnson is more motivated than ever before. With ten of twelve starters returning, Vancouver's above average offence remains in rhythm and will put points on the scoreboard. WR Myles Molson is projected to have another HoF-like season and WR Scott Walsh has improved which gives Johnson another target. Despite their strong offence, the additions of defensive rookies DE Zeke Markle (St. Albert College), S Albert Mainse (St. Albert College), and DH Corey Sutherland (Rideau College) make Vancouver's defence the team's main strength for the 2023 campaign. OFF/DEF: [NC]/[NC]. Projected: 7-3 – ready to make another championship run.
