Thank you for downloading the 1953 Pacific Coast League for History Maker Baseball

Things I learned when rating teams

- There are 12 pages of team cards.
- The first 8 pages are the main cards for each team
- I tried to put 18 players on one page so that you could print out two teams and use their 8 regulars, 8 pitchers, and 2 subs
- The final 4 pages include the rest of the players

- In rating this season I noticed that some pitchers were used often as pinch hitters (Moisan for the Angels for instance)
     Most pitchers started and relieved
- Pitchers positions are noted for their primary role, but they were utilized in all roles
- The second game of double headers were 7 innings
- To put the outfielders in positions I used the RFG rating on baseball-reference
     The highest rfg is the centerfielder, the next is right and the last is left.
     This doesn't necessarily mean that the positions are correct
- I placed some outfielders in positions based on finding things on the internet

TWO IMPORTANT NOTES

Some players have two letters listed after their last names in parentheses, these players played on two or more teams

The first letter tells you which was their main team

- P - is for primary
- S - is for secondary
- T - if for tertiary
- E - is for equal time

The second letter tells you when they played for the team

- F - is for first
- S - is for second
- L - is for last

Example - Ray Dandridge (SF), Sacramento was the first team he played for in the season, but it was his secondary team for games played

Under their usage for their team you will see a usage rating for the season for all the teams they played for combined

Δ Triples ● means that when the triangle appears the decider die must be rolled
