

The 1959 Nebraska State League for HISTORY MAKER BASEBALL

Welcome to the 1959 Nebraska State League! This six team league was the final season in the Nebraska State League. Their season lasted 62 games beginning around July 1st and concluding at the end of August.

I chose to do this league because the league and the Mc Cook Braves was one of the main subjects in Pat Jordan's A FALSE SPRING. The NSL was a Class D league, many of the players started their careers here or other Class D leagues. They came out of high school or the colleges. Quite a few players from this league went on to careers in Major League Baseball: Walt Weiss, Elrod Hendricks, Ron Hunt, Jim Hicks, Jim Bouton and future Hall of Fame pitcher Phil Niekro.

Enjoy this set. Be forewarned, this is a league filled with prospects and semi-prospect. You will experience lots of walks, strikeouts, and errors; after all, these players were starting out and were "wet behind the ears!"

For this season, the freshness rule is as follows:

Starters: Fresh for the first 4 innings and then semi-fresh for 3.
Relief: 2 innings Fresh and 1 inning semi-fresh.

For more information on this league go to the following link:

Pat Jordan's book is available through Amazon.com. Pat had a decent season with the McCook Braves that year. He did, however, average 7 walks per 9 innings and was wild, like most of the pitchers that season.
